

ICAAT

International Coordination
of Anthroposophic Arts
Therapies

Newsletter June 2022

Dear colleagues of Arts Therapies!

Here is some news from various areas concerning our professional life!

The latest newsletter can also be found on our homepage under news after it has been sent out!

Please send information for the newsletter to Johanna Gunkel.

Best regards,

Johanna Gunkel

Coordination Anthroposophic Art Therapies
Medical Section at the Goetheanum

Save the date! Conference announcement

The courage of the soul, to create itself

23rd International Working Days for Anthroposophic Arts Therapies

January 5–8, 2023 at the Goetheanum

Courageously we are looking ahead and planning another face-to-face conference:
The 23rd International Study Days for Anthroposophic Arts Therapies at the Goetheanum!

What makes us take steps, how do we come into change and how does development succeed? It is courage!

In exchange with colleagues from other art therapeutic directions we want to work together on the theme of courage. In doing so, we can encourage ourselves to broaden our own horizons and to experience inspiring and inspired things.

We will begin on Thursday, 5 January in the late afternoon with an impulse talk on the theme of courage in art therapy and end on Sunday, 8 January with the opportunity for a joint closing breakfast.

We are planning lecture-dialogues from all four disciplines, as well as working groups that can be attended either on Friday or Saturday. There will also be exchanges on exciting topics such as regional networking, research projects, future thinking and much more. The detailed agenda will be available on our website from autumn onwards.

We are very much looking forward to meeting you again in January, curious and lively,

Best wishes from the preparatory team!

P.S.: The originally planned conference Tria Principa will be postponed to a later date.

Changes in the ICAAT Team

Silke Speckenmeyer, responsible for our public relations, has left our team, here is her message to all colleagues:

"I would like to inform you that I have decided to resign as a member of the public relations team. We are in the fluid process of handing over. After a busy five years, I would like to devote myself exclusively to my independent studio practice and work with my artistic approach. I would like to thank my colleagues at ICAAT for their teamwork. These have been valuable years and I wish you continued success with all my heart! I send my very best wishes to my colleagues around the world."

Silke Speckenmeyer

Books, new publications

Dear colleagues!

For the annual conference of the Medical Section we are collecting information about new publications in the field of art therapies (all disciplines). Please report new publications or new editions by email to Laura Piffaretti.

And if possible, hand in a sample copy for the ICAAT stand (by post: Laura Piffaretti, Neuhuspark 7, CH-6045 Meggen, or in September directly at the stand, or sometime in the Section, written up for ICAAT).

These publications will then also be available for purchase in the bookshop, if possible.

Many thanks,

Laura Piffaretti

*Imprint
Medical Section at the Goetheanum
PO Box
4143 Dornach, Switzerland*